EDI Information and Enrollment Form

Effective in 2009, Minnesota Law will require all healthcare providers to submit claims and send and receive ALL transactions electronically. This means eligibility, remittance advises and claim status as well as the common feat of sending claims electronically. With smaller offices, only about half of them are transmitting electronically. So this law is in fact requiring providers to run a marathon before many learn to walk.

There is good news with all this change. The good news is ultimately, this will save thousands of dollars for providers is quicker payments, cleaner claims, and reduced work. The price to do all transaction is $114 per month per provider. $200 setup fee.

Below is what is included in the EDI package:

- Unlimited Electronic Claims
- Unlimited Individual Claims Status Inquiry
- Unlimited Individual Eligibility Inquiry (payer surcharge may apply)
- Unlimited Paper Claims
- Unlimited Electronic Remittance Advice (when available from payer)
- Unlimited Secondary Claims Processing Environment (SCoPE)

Want to compare the cost of paper claims only? Take the number of patients you see on a daily basis times 22 work days in a month. Next, multiply that number times at least 50 cents a claim. (claim form, envelope, stamp and printing costs) With staffing costs, many experts figure it cost up to $7.00 per claim. Even at the bare minimum, most offices can see a cost saving immediately just with the cost of claims. Then, by adding into the mix that offices now need to do ALL transactions electronically, it's a no brainer on why you want to do this. Want to see a free demo? Complete and fax this form today!
